High Energy Mix

Attracting birds to your backyard:

Using Lyric specially-designed mixes takes the guess work out of feeding wild birds. The key to feeding birds is knowing the different foods that are attractive and beneficial to specific birds. Once these preferences are understood you can increase the sights and sounds of wild bird activity in your backyard.

What makes Lyric Fruit & Nut different from other fruit and nut mixes?

Nuts: In order to make a genuine fruit and nut mix, it is important to start with a wide range of highly palatable nuts. Lyric begins by using shelled peanuts. Three of the most bird-desirable tree nuts are added next: almonds, pecans and cashews. Pistachios complete the nut portion of the recipe adding more color and variety.

Fruits: Cranberries and raisins are viewed as two of the most acceptable fruits for wild birds. The contrast in colors of Lyric Fruit & Nut adds to the attractiveness of the mix.

Bird Favorites: A filler-free mix of sunflower kernels, shelled pumpkin seeds and corn is added to Lyric Fruit & Nut. These prized foods are highly palatable to birds. A bird staple - black oil sunflower completes this unique mix.

Which birds eat Lyric Fruit & Nut Mix?

This variety of 11 different ingredients will attract chickadees, woodpeckers, nuthatches, jays, titmice, cardinals, grosbeaks, towhees, buntings, robins, Cedar Waxwings and orioles.

What feeder should be used for Lyric Fruit & Nut Mix?

Hopper Feeders, Tray or Platform with Cover, or Tube Feeders with large ports can be used to get the widest variety of birds. You can limit the variety of birds by using specialized feeders for woodpeckers and other birds like nuthatches that do not require perches. Peanut feeders made of wire mesh tubes work well for this application. Use a baffle to deter squirrels.

Ingredients: Shelled Peanuts, Almonds, Cashews, Pecans, Corn, Black Oil Sunflower, Sunflower Kernels, Pistachios, Dried Cranberries, Shelled Pumpkin Seeds and Raisins.
